

Procedure

Public Interest Disclosures

1. Purpose

This procedure describes the process by which West Moreton Health (WMH) will manage public interest disclosures (PIDs) in the interests of fostering an ethical, transparent culture to support the highest standards of patient and staff safety.

As required under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010, WMH will implement procedures (a Public Interest Disclosure Management Program) to ensure that:

- Any public officer who makes a PID is given appropriate support;
- PIDs made to WMH are properly assessed and, where appropriate, properly investigated and dealt with;
- Appropriate action is taken in relation to any wrongdoing which is the subject of a PID;
- A management program for PIDs made to WMH, consistent with the standards issued by the Queensland Ombudsman, is developed and implemented;
- Public officers who make PIDs are offered protection from reprisal by WMH or other public officers of WMH.

2. Scope

This procedure applies to all WMH employees.

3. Statement / Commitment

WMH values the disclosure of information about suspected wrongdoing in the public sector so that it can be properly assessed and, if necessary, appropriately investigated. WMH will provide support to an employee or others who make disclosures about matters in the public interest. This procedure demonstrates this commitment and ensures that practical and effective processes are implemented which comply with the requirements of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010 (PID Act).

WMH is committed to respecting, protecting and promoting human rights. To the extent that this procedure engages with human rights, West Moreton Health staff will properly consider them, and act and make decisions compatibly as per the Human Rights Act 2019 (Qld).

4. Process

4.1 PID Management Program

The Health Service Chief Executive has overall responsibility for ensuring that WMH develops, implements and maintains a PID management program. The WMH PID management program encompasses:

- Commitment to encouraging the internal reporting of wrongdoing;
- Senior management endorsement of the value to WMH of PIDs and the proper management of PIDs;
- A communication strategy to raise awareness among employees about PIDs and WMH's PID procedure;
- A training strategy to give employees access to training about how to make a PID, information on the support available to a discloser, and advice on how PIDs will be managed;
- Specialist training and awareness about PIDs for senior management and other staff who may receive or manage PIDs, disclosers, or workplace issues relating to PIDs;
- The appointment of a specialist officer/unit to be responsible for issues related to the management of PIDs;
- Ensuring effective systems and procedures are in place so that issues and outcomes from PIDs inform improvements to service delivery, business processes, and internal controls;
- Regular review of the Public Interest Disclosure Procedure and evaluation of the effectiveness of the PID management program.

4.2 Roles and responsibilities within the PID management program

The Health Service Chief Executive has designated the following roles and responsibilities for managing PIDs within WMH:

Delegated decision-maker	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>review investigation report and determine whether alleged wrongdoing is substantiated</li> </ul>	An appropriate decision-maker will be appointed for each PID investigated.

4.3 Why make a PID?

Employees who are prepared to speak up about public sector misconduct, wastage of public funds, suspected unlawful activity or danger to health, safety or the environment can be the most important sources of information to identify and address problems in public sector administration. WMH supports the disclosure of information about wrongdoing because:

- implementing systems for reporting and dealing with wrongdoing contributes to the integrity of WMH;
- the outcomes of PIDs can include improvements to systems that prevent fraud and other economic loss to WMH;
- the community's trust in public administration is strengthened by having strong processes in place for reporting wrongdoing.

When making a PID the discloser receives the protections provided under the PID Act, including:

- confidentiality – the discloser's name and other identifying information will be protected to the extent possible;
- protection against reprisal – the discloser is protected from unfair treatment by WMH and employees of WMH as a result of making the PID;
- immunity from liability – the discloser cannot be prosecuted for disclosing the information but is not exempt from action if they have engaged in wrongdoing;

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure
WMHHS2014305v3

- protection from defamation – the discloser has a defence against an accusation of defamation by any subject officer.

4.4 What is a PID?

Under the PID Act, any person can make a disclosure about:

- a substantial and specific danger to the health or safety of a person with a disability;
- the commission of an offence, or contravention of a condition imposed under a provision of legislation mentioned in Schedule 2 of the PID Act, if the offence or contravention would be a substantial and specific danger to the environment;
- reprisal because of a belief that a person has made or intends to make a disclosure.

In addition, public sector officers can make a disclosure about the following public interest matters:

- corrupt conduct;
- maladministration that adversely affects a person's interests in a substantial and specific way;
- a substantial misuse of public resources;
- a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety;
- substantial and specific danger to the environment.

A discloser can have either a 'reasonable belief' that wrongdoing has occurred or provide evidence which tends to show the wrongdoing has occurred.

A disclosure amounts to a PID and is covered by the PID Act even if the:

- discloser reports the information as part of their duties – such as an auditor reporting a fraud or an occupational health and safety officer reporting a safety breach;
- disclosure is made anonymously – the discloser is not required to give their name or any identifying information;
- discloser has not identified the material as a PID – it is up to WMH to assess information received and decide if it is a PID;
- disclosure is unsubstantiated following investigation – the discloser is protected when the information they provide is assessed as a PID, whether it is subsequently investigated or found to be substantiated.

4.5 To whom can a PID be disclosed?

A PID must be made to the 'proper authority' to receive disclosures of the type being made.

Disclosers are encouraged to make a disclosure to an appropriate officer of WMH first, as set out in the table below. If the matter is not resolved, or the discloser is concerned about confidentiality, the disclosure may be made to another appropriate agency.

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure
WMHHS2014305v3

Contacts within WMH	Other agencies that can receive PIDs
Any person (including employees) can make a disclosure to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Line manager/Supervisor (can be any employee who holds a manager or supervisor position)</li> <li>• Corrupt Conduct Liaison Officer (CCLO)</li> <li>• Workplace Relations unit</li> <li>• Human Resources Manager</li> <li>• Any Executive Director</li> <li>• Any Chief Officer</li> <li>• The Chief Executive</li> </ul>	Disclosures can be made to an agency that has a responsibility for investigating the information disclosed: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Crime and Corruption Commission (CCC) for disclosures about corrupt conduct including reprisal</li> <li>• Queensland Ombudsman for disclosures about maladministration</li> <li>• Queensland Audit Office for disclosures about a substantial misuse of resources</li> <li>• Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women for disclosures about danger to the health and safety of a child or young person with a disability</li> <li>• Department of Communities, Disability Services and Seniors for disclosures about danger to the health and safety of a person with a disability</li> <li>• Office of the Public Guardian for disclosures about danger to the health and safety of a person with a disability</li> <li>• Department of Environment and Science disclosures about danger to the environment</li> <li>• A Member of the Legislative Assembly (MP) for any wrongdoing or danger</li> <li>• The Chief Judicial Officer of a court or tribunal in relation to a disclosure about wrongdoing by a judicial officer.</li> </ul>

A disclosure can also be made to a journalist, as a last resort, if the following conditions have been met:

- a valid PID was initially made to a proper authority, and
- the proper authority:
  - decided not to investigate or deal with the disclosure, or
  - investigated the disclosure but did not recommend taking any action, or
  - failed to notify the discloser within six months of making the disclosure whether the disclosure was to be investigated or otherwise dealt with.

A person who makes a disclosure to a journalist in these circumstances is protected under the PID Act. However, disclosers should be aware that journalists are not bound under the confidentiality provisions of section 65 of the PID Act. Disclosers should also be aware that disclosure to someone who is not a proper authority (including a journalist, unless the conditions set out immediately above have been met) will not give them the protections available under the PID Act and may expose them to legal risk. Disclosers who are concerned about potential legal risk should seek legal advice.

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure WMHHS2014305v3

4.6 How to make a PID

A discloser can make a PID in any way, including anonymously, either verbally or in writing. To assist in the assessment, and any subsequent investigation of a PID, disclosers are requested to provide the below:

- contact details (this could be an email address that is created for the purpose of making the disclosure or a telephone number)
- as much information as possible about the suspected wrongdoing, including:
  - who was involved;
  - what happened;
  - when it happened;
  - where it happened;
  - whether there were any witnesses, and if so who they are;
  - any evidence that supports the PID, and where the evidence is located;
  - any further information that could help investigate the PID.
- this information should be provided in writing.

4.7 Deciding whether a matter is a PID

If there is any doubt as to whether a matter is a PID, further information may be obtained in order to make a decision. If doubt remains, the matter will be considered and managed as a PID.

Mere disagreements over policy do not meet the threshold for a PID under the PID Act.

It is an offence under the PID Act to intentionally give false or misleading information intending it be acted on as a PID. Employees may be subject to disciplinary action for intentionally giving false or misleading information in a PID, or during an investigation into a PID.

Where a discloser states they are making a PID, but it is assessed that the matter is not a PID, WMH will advise the discloser:

- that their information has been received but was not assessed as a PID;
- the reasons for the decision;
- the review rights available if the discloser is dissatisfied with the decision and how to request review (refer to section 4.13);
- any action WMH proposes to take in relation to the matter;
- any other options the discloser has in relation to the matter.

4.8 Assessing a PID

The disclosure will be assessed as per the criteria set out in section 4.4 above, the PID Act, the PID standards and any other relevant procedure(s).

Once the matter has been assessed as a PID, WMH will advise the discloser:

- that their information has been received and assessed as a PID;

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure
WMHHS2014305v3

- the action to be taken by WMH in relation to the disclosure, which could include referring the matter to an external agency, or investigating;
- the likely timeframe involved;
- the name and contact details of the WMH support officer they can contact for updates or advice;
- of the discloser's obligations regarding confidentiality;
- the protections the discloser has under the PID Act;
- the commitment of WMH to keep appropriate records and maintain confidentiality, except where permitted under the PID Act;
- how updates regarding intended actions and outcomes will be provided to the discloser;
- contact details for the WMH Employee Assistance Program.

If the PID has been made anonymously and the discloser has not provided any contact details, WMH will not be able to acknowledge the PID or provide any updates.

4.9 Referring a PID

If WMH decides there is another proper authority that is better able to deal with the PID, the PID may be referred to that agency. This may be because:

- the PID concerns wrongdoing by that agency or an employee of that agency;
- that agency has the power to investigate or remedy the matter.

Before referring the PID to another agency, WMH will conduct a risk assessment, and will not proceed with the referral if there is an unacceptable risk of reprisal. In accordance with the requirements of the PID Act, WMH will, if practicable, consult with the person who made the public interest disclosure when considering whether there would be an unacceptable risk.

It may also be necessary to refer the PID to another agency because of a legislative obligation, for example, refer a matter to the Crime and Corruption Commission where there is a reasonable suspicion that the matter involves or may involve corrupt conduct (as required by section 38 of the Crime and Corruption Act 2001).

The confidentiality obligations of the PID Act permit appropriate officers of WMH to communicate with another agency about the referral of a PID. Officers will exercise discretion in their contacts with any other agency.

The discloser will be advised of the action taken by WMH.

4.10 Risk assessment and protection from reprisal

Disclosers should not suffer any form of detriment as a result of making a PID. Upon receiving a PID, WMH will conduct a risk assessment to assess the likelihood of the discloser (or witnesses or affected third parties) suffering reprisal action as a result of having made the disclosure. This assessment will take into account the actual and reasonably perceived risk of the discloser (or witnesses or affected third parties) suffering detriment and will include consultation with the discloser.

A risk assessment will be undertaken if the discloser is anonymous based on information available in the PID. The risk assessment will also consider the risk to persons who may be suspected of making the PID.

Consistent with the assessed level of risk, WMH will develop and implement a risk management plan and arrange any reasonably necessary support or protection for the discloser (or witnesses or affected third parties). Refer to section 4.15 for support for disclosers.

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure
WMHHS2014305v3

WMH will regularly reassess the risk of reprisal while the PID is being managed, in consultation with the discloser, and review the risk management plan if required.

In the event of reprisal action being alleged or suspected, WMH will:

- attend to the safety of the discloser (or witnesses or affected third parties) as a matter of priority;
- review its risk assessment, risk management plan and any protective measures needed to mitigate any further risk of reprisal;
- manage any allegation of a reprisal as a PID in its own right.

4.11 Declining to act on a PID

Under the PID Act, WMH may decide not to investigate or deal with a PID in various circumstances, including:

- the information disclosed has already been investigated or dealt with by another process;
- the information disclosed should be dealt with by another process;
- the age of the information makes it impractical to investigate;
- the information disclosed is too trivial and dealing with it would substantially and unreasonably divert WMH from the performance of its functions;
- another agency with jurisdiction to investigate the information has informed WMH that an investigation is not warranted.

If a decision is made not to investigate or deal with a PID, WMH will give the discloser written reasons for that decision.

4.12 Communication with disclosers

Under the PID Act, the WMH must give reasonable information to a discloser.

WMH will acknowledge receipt of the PID in writing as soon as practicable. The discloser will be provided with information that meets the requirements of the PID Act and the standards issued by the Queensland Ombudsman, including:

- the action that will be taken in response to the PID;
- the protections under the PID Act;
- confidentiality obligations of the discloser and WMH;
- support arrangements.

WMH will maintain contact with the discloser and provide regular updates during the management of the PID.

In accordance with the PID Act, after finalising action in response to the PID, WMH will advise the discloser in writing of the action taken and the results of the action.

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure
WMHHS2014305v3*4.13 Right of review

If the discloser is dissatisfied with the decision, they can request a review by writing to the Chief Executive of WMH within 28 days of receiving the written reasons for decision.

4.14 Confidentiality

While WMH will make every attempt to protect confidentiality, a discloser's identity may need to be disclosed to:

- provide natural justice to subject officers;
- respond to a court order, legal directive or court proceedings.

WMH will ensure that communication with all parties involved will be arranged discreetly to avoid identifying the discloser wherever possible.

Disclosers should be aware that while WMH will make every attempt to keep their details confidential, it cannot guarantee that others will not try to deduce their identity.

4.15 Support for disclosers

WMH recognises that providing appropriate support to a discloser is an important feature of effective PID management.

An assessment will be undertaken to identify the support needs of the discloser. Where appropriate, a PID Support Officer will be assigned to the discloser. The PID Support Officer will assist the discloser to access information about PIDs, protections available under the PID Act and the PID management process. The PID Support Officer will proactively contact the discloser to offer support.

Information and support will be provided to the discloser until the matter is finalised.

Making a PID does not prevent reasonable management action. That means that the discloser will continue to be managed in accordance with normal, fair and reasonable management practices during and after the handling of the PID.

4.16 Investigating a PID

If a decision is made to investigate a PID, this will be done with consideration for the:

- principles of natural justice;
- obligation under the PID Act to protect confidential information;
- obligation under the PID Act to protect officers from reprisal;
- interests of subject officers.

If as a result of investigation, the information about wrongdoing provided in the PID is substantiated, appropriate action will be taken.

Where the investigation does not substantiate wrongdoing, WMH will review systems, policies and procedures to identify any opportunity for improvements to be made and consider if staff training is required.

Public Interest Disclosures Procedure
WMHHS2014305v3

4.17 Rights of subject officers

WMH acknowledges that for officers who are the subject of a PID the experience may be stressful. WMH will protect their rights by:

- assuring them that the PID will be dealt with impartially, fairly and reasonably in accordance with the principles of natural justice;
- confirming that the PID is an allegation only until information or evidence obtained through an investigation substantiates the allegation;
- providing them with information about their rights and the progress and outcome of any investigation;
- referring them to the Employee Assistance Program for additional support.

Information and support will be provided to a subject officer until the matter is finalised.

4.18 Record-keeping

In accordance with its obligations under the PID Act and the Public Records Act 2002, WMH will ensure that:

- accurate data is collected about the receipt and management of PIDs;
- anonymised data is reported to the Office of the Queensland Ombudsman in their role as the oversight agency, through the PID reporting database.

Records about disclosures, investigations, and related decisions will be kept secure and accessible only to appropriately authorised people involved in the management of the PID.
